

We are a non-profit community of artists bringing these voices to our SOUPzine for free. We volunteer our time and energy because we believe it is important to share these stories. We fund this project ourselves and would greatly appreciate any contribution you are willing to make to help cover the costs of running this site. Thank you for your support!